SECESSIONISTS IN THE FREE STATES.—Can any creature be so despicable on the globe as a Secessionist in a loyal State Yet what a forlorn creature he is Ought we not rather to pity him? He has no country He can't open a book of American biography or history and feel pride in it Every bright page in it condemns him He has cut himself off from the heritage of his country's memories—from his dividend of honor in the fame of Washington and his supporting staff of great men, who saved their country by their valor, and built a grand polity in it by their genius and the help of God He isn't an Englishman, nor a German, nor an Italian, nor yet an American Even a Mexican stands off from him, more noble than he, for a Mexican runs to the support of his flag, forgetting all sectional animosities and feels his blood stir as the banner of France right only goes down before it. A Secessionist in a Northern State is an orphan, forlorn and pitiable.

No, he is despicable, rather He has not the manliness to go and fight for the flag in hopes will triumph He stays and nourishes his wretched breath where it is safe He stays under the flag he hates, which generally protects him, to plot against by undermining patriotism He is a perpetual spy, cunning and cowardly He measures accurately the pressure and fervor of public sentiment, and talks against the Government that blesses him just to the limit of serious peril His face is just prudently radiant when news of disaster comes. He taps the public morals a wood-pecker does a tree for decay and worms, and finds who have the tainted spots in their hearts that makes them fit for him to vote for. And he lives on this month after month, loading his table and perhaps filling his coffers with the bounty that flows to him under a flag whose halyards he would like to cut, whose power he would like to hamstring—a traitor without the one gleam of nobleness which the open conspirators show who set them "life upon the cast" and "stand the hazard of the die."—The State Rang.

GEN CLUSERET'S OPINION OF THE AMERICAN SOLDIER.—The semi official paper Le Pays publishes the extract of a letter written by General Cluseret to one of his friends in Paris, in which he gives the following description of the soldiers he has under his command

After two months of campaign and sufferings such as I never endured, even in the Crimea war, where we were never in want of food nor exhausted by long marches, I can speak to you knowingly of the American soldier During all that time we have been marching night and day, oftentimes without bread with half of our men shoeless, exposed to a chilly rain, without shelter, tent or village We have thus walked between 160 and 200 miles

But that which, in my estimation, makes the American soldier the first in the world—the equal of the French soldier—is that I never heard him utter a complaint or grumble I never was compelled to inflict a punishment upon him When I ordered a straggler to fall in, he used to show me his naked feet and hurry on as much as he could I have but a word to express my opinion of the American soldier, he is an admirable soldier He adds to the qualities of the French a patience and a resignation which I did not think possible for a soldier ever to acquire PROSPECTING TOUR.—On Tuesday last, Messrs Keach and Martin, with a Kanaka and an Indian, started on a prospecting tour to the head of Nisqually river, near the base of Mount Rainier, where gold in large quantities is believed to exist The Indians have frequently, in former years, represented the existence of the precious metal in the vicinity, and latterly they have insisted upon it with so much earnestness that many believe it The prospecting party go well provisioned and equipped, and contemplate an absence of two or three weeks They bear with them the best wishes of their friends, who await their return with hopeful solicitude P S Herald.

"DO YOU TAKE WAFERS?"—The Cleveland Herald says "On Saturday morning a countryman entered a store on Ontario street for the purpose of trading After ordering what he wanted he inquired of the clerk, 'Do you take wafers in pay?'

'Wafers' replied the astonished clerk

'Yes, wafers, wafers. That's all the sort of money I've got I took em of a chap down here, and he said they are good'

'Well,' said the clerk, 'we take all sorts of good currency, but we haven't yet got to taking wafers'

'But these are good ones,' said the countryman, 'red wafers—got a head onto 'em'

The clerk suddenly got an idea as to the state of the case, asked to look at the new currency, found them to be good three cent stamps, and decided that he did take wafers in pay

BLOODY REVENGE OF THE CIRCASSIANS.—A statement was published lately from the English papers of the recent defeat of a Russian army by the Circassians, but the whole story was not told A correspondent of the Herald, writing under date of June 28th, says that the whole number of Russian captives (three thousand) were murdered in cold blood by the Circassians We copy

I have another great Circassian victory to report About ten days ago, the Russian General Evdokimoff proceeded with a strong column towards the valley inhabited by the hostile Shapsu and Abasch tribes, with a view to devastate the whole On being apprised of the enemy's approach, the threatened population promptly moved off with their cattle and other movables into the mountains, and called on the other tribes to rally to their assistance This appeal was speedily responded to, and in a couple of days such a force had assembled from all sides as was thought sufficient not merely to make a stand against, but to attack the Russians This was accordingly decided on, and as the fortress of Hankete, in the neighborhood, was the chief source of danger, dominating as it did the whole plain, an assault upon it was first resolved on Accordingly, on the night of the 22d instant, a strong force, composed of contingents from the Ubika, Shapsus, and Abasches, proceeded under cover of the darkness to the fort, and by a rapid simultaneous escalade on all sides, made good a footing within the walls Whilst a party of these assailants engaged the surprised garrison, the others opened the gates to their fellows outside, and the wild, murderous crowd rolled in. As quarter is seldom or never the fashion on either side in this war, none was now given the Russians, the whole, numbering, it is said, three thousand men, were butchered on the spot, and the morning broke on not a living Muscovite within the blood stained walls

The fruits of this sufficiently savage victory were the capture of large stores of arms and ammunition, including several valuable field pieces and mountain howitzers. The large guns were all spiked, and after the place had been stripped of everything worth carrying off, it was set fire to and demolished In the meantime, the valley into which General Evdokimoff had luckilessly moved had been surrounded, and all the outlets from it closed by strong bodies of the other mountaineers, and the surrender or destruction of the whole detachment was regarded (by the Circassians) as certain, when the bearer of this news left the scene of action

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 19, 1862.

Treaty with the Nez Perces.

Instructions have been received by the Superintendents of Indian Affairs, to make arrangements for negotiating a treaty with the Nez Perces Indians, for their country on the Clearwater, the present autumn. Wm. H. Rector, Calvin H. Hale and Charles Hutchins are appointed Commissioners on the part of the Government. Mr. Hale is now, it is supposed, at Lapwai, and an agent, Henry C. Wilson, Esq., has been despatched from Olympia, with the instructions for Mr. Hale. Mr. Hutchins has been directed to take charge of the Bitter Root Agency, but it is hoped he has not left Lapwai for that purpose. If he has, however, no Indian will be dispatched after him directing his immediate return to the Nez Perces Agency.

We fear that the Nez Perces Indians are not at this time disposed to make a treaty.—They say, and with truth, a treaty was made by them several years ago, and has not been complied with by our General Government. They complain of the former Agent. The money appropriated and used for the Agency under his administration, did not make the improvements at Lapwai expected; nor was the payment of annuities satisfactory. Mr. Hutchins has satisfied the Indians, so far as the execution of his duties were concerned, and he is a favorite with them; and, possibly, under his influence and the disposition always existing on the part of the Nez Perces to be on friendly terms with the whites, may be used to secure a treaty.

The Indians understand as well as we do, that the whole country is auriferous, and that if they dispose of lands now on which gold is known to exist, and move to a new position, they will again be subject to the encroachment of the whites. Indian treaties will not—or at least have not—protected Indian lands from intrusion by whites in search of gold.

We believe some forty thousand dollars have been appropriated to pay the expenses of procuring the treaty desired. There will be a great time on the Lapwai. All the Indians of the tribe will probably be present.—They will have to be fed and feasted for a time in order to get them in a right frame of mind. They will have to be convinced that the removal of the Indians from the neighborhood of the whites will be for their benefit; their improvements that they leave will have to be paid for; and assistance given them to make other improvements; and they will have to be paid down money and presents to secure the consummation of a treaty.

We hope the Commissioners will be successful. That they should be, is necessary both to the whites and Indians. Our people ought to feel a sympathy and kindness for the Nez Perces. They have always been our friends—boasting that they have never shed the blood of the whites.

Our apprehensions are that it is too late in the season to attempt to make a treaty with the Nez Perces; but what can, will be done.

THE INDIANS NEAR THE SOUTH PASS.—These Indians, Snakes we suppose, have murdered some two of the emigrants the present season. There has been for years a band of Indians in that neighborhood who have robbed the emigrants for Oregon whenever opportunity offered. We have been told by an emigrant who was with a company where horses were stolen, that they followed the trail of their horses until they were confronted by a large party of Indians, armed and in line of battle, and that a man dressed in Indian garb, who spoke excellent English, seeming to command the party, told the pursuing emigrants that the horses should not return; and if they made any further attempts to procure them, the whites should be slaughtered. The emigrants then retired, fully convinced that these Indian robbers were under the control of whites—probably Mormons. There is no other remedy against the Indians, than that of wiping them out.

POSTPONEMENT OF WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR.—We are requested to state by the Secretary of Washington County Agricultural Society, that unforeseen circumstances render it necessary to postpone the time of holding the Annual Fair. It will be held on the 15th, 16th, and 17th of October.

SAN FRANCISCO NEWS.—The relief meeting to-night (Sept. 11th,) chose an Executive Committee of thirteen to manage collection of funds. The $3,000 collected at the polls last election day has been turned over to the banking house of Donohoe, Ralston & Co., who allow ten per cent. premium, and will telegraph to morrow morning to their correspondents in New York to pay the amount in gold immediately, for the benefit of the wounded soldiers. Lieuts. Sullivan and Chapman have collected $2,500 in cash and $3,000 in subscriptions, which is turned over to the State Central Committee. The Executive Committee will arrange for a monster mass meeting in this city next week to ask the aid of all citizens. Eminent speakers will address the meeting.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 10.—General Wool has been assigned to the command of all the troops north of the Susquehanna. Within the next 24 hours 20,000 troops will be in Cumberland Valley. Before Jackson can reach Chambersburg he will be required to overthrow 50,000 Pennsylvania yeomanry.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LATER FROM THE EAST.

DATES TO SEPT. 18.

MARYSVILLE via YREKA Sept 14.—Eastern news dated to 12th is condensed as follows

Gen Villipigue was reported on the 9th as marching on Bolivar, (Tenn.) with 2,000 men. Breckinridge, with 6,000, is also moving North

Gov. Curtin, of Pennsylvania, has called for 50,000 more men for nine hats service to repel rebel invasion.

The rebels have commenced tearing up the Franklin railroad from Hagerstown

McClellan is reported to be at Damascus, 16 miles from Frederick, on the 10th

The impression prevails that the rebels are invading Maryland for food and supplies—no other object being apparent

Gen. Canby, of the Department of New Mexico, has been superseded by Gen. Carlton, who is expected at Santa Fe soon

From Fortress Monroe news of an attack on Williamsburg by the rebels, on Tuesday morning. They were repulsed. Federal Col Campbell, five captains, and four lieutenants taken prisoners. Rebel Col. Shingles and eight officers killed

CINCINNATI, Sept 12.—Reports state that the rebels 15,000 strong menace the city.—Our forces are numerically larger, carefully selected and fortified. Rebel accounts give the number of men against Pope in the recent battles at 130,000. Pope had at no time over 60,000.

Reports from Frederick say the rebels left there on the 10th. They were principally infantry and artillery. Lee, Jackson, Cobb and others were there, also 5,000 cavalry at New-Market, 5 miles west.

The most effective measures are being put in force to assemble a large army to resist rebel invasion into Pennsylvania

McClellan had advanced beyond Rockville, Md., on 12th. All bridges on Northern and Central roads in Maryland strongly protected by forces posted on all roads leading to them. On 11th heavy cannonading reported apparently at Urbana.

All quiet at Harper's Ferry. Neither railroad or telegraph interrupted between there and Wheeling. City Council of Philadelphia appropriated half a million for defense of the city, empowering the mayor to act as he sees fit.

5000 rebel cavalry made a raid into Westminster last evening, charging through town firing pistols, on unarmed citizens.

Federal troops occupied Newmarket, on Baltimore and Ohio railroad, ten miles from Frederick, yesterday.

Cassius M Clay ordered to report to Gen. Butler at New Orleans.

Jackson, Lee and Longstreet passed up behind Hunter's Mills from Fairfax, remained at Leesburg last Thursday and Friday, crossing into Maryland at Edward's Ferry with 40,000 men.

Rebels, in force reported at Leesburg.

Reported fight with Merrimac No. 2, proves to be false.

I. D. Fremery, Consul for Netherlands, to reside at San Francisco, recognized by the President.

Gen. Wright is fully prepared to receive an attack at Cincinnatti. Confidence prevails that when the enemy makes an attack they will be repulsed.

Intelligence from Kentucky is meagre.

Guerrilla Morgan was, at last accounts, in Lexington.

Bragg is moving northwardly to form a junction with Kirby Smith, or to attack Louisville. Buell is reported marching parallel with Bragg, keeping between him and the Ohio river. Rebels cannot hope—

[At this point the dispatch abruptly ceases.]

Details of News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Gen. Pope's new Department includes Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska and Dacota, with all the troops raising or to be raised therein. Headquarters at St. Paul.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The last of the rebel prisoners confined at Camp Douglas, Chicago, left for the South last night.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 8.—The Confederate Senate passed a new Conscription bill on the 4th. It extends the conscription to all persons between the ages of 35 and 45. A proposition has been introduced extending the provisions of the Sequestration Act to all persons refusing to take the oath of allegiance to the Confederate Government.

The Grenada Appeal of the 5th, publishes an account of a fight at Denmark, Tenn., on Tuesday last between the Federals and two regiments of rebel cavalry, resulting in a drawn battle. The rebel loss was 100 killed and wounded. They claim taking 200 prisoners and 2 pieces of cannon.

New Orleans papers of the 1st report that an expedition under Col. Thomas along the coast, captured 1,500 horses. Three of our men were wounded.

According to the Jackson Mississippian, the correspondent at Mobile of that paper says that much concern is felt for the safety of a large wagon train for Hindman, Ark. Federal cavalry were in pursuit of it.

Guerrillas were along in coasting schooners. The Delta notices the close of summer, stating that the health of the city had been unparalleled, and congratulates the citizens on the entire absence of yellow fever.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 10.—Pope's official report of the movements of the army in Virginia from the time he left Washington for Virginia and until he returned, is published this afternoon. He attributes the whole disaster to a failure of the Army of the Potomac to co operate when he was on the Rappahannock. He presumed that the Army of the Potomac would protect the section between him and Washington. Its failure to do so caused him to be completely flanked. If he had turned upon the enemy from the Rappahannock he could have had him completely defeated.—Fitz John Porter had drawn off his corps, contrary to written orders, and refused to take part in the contest, while the enemy was marching reinforcements past him. General Pope also censures Gen Griffin for withholding his command from the contest while the battle was raging. He accuses McClellan of refusing to supply him, when his forces had been without food for two days, although he had telegraphed and written urgently requesting supplies to be sent.

NEW YORK, Sept 10.—The steamer Columbia, from Havana has arrived.

The Confederate steamer Oreto had arrived at Havana from Cardenas. The Oreto has lost many of her crew by sickness and desertion. The authorities ordered her from there, and she left on the 1st in a leaking condition. When she arrived at Havana she had but 36 hands, most of them, including the Captain, being sick.

Vera Cruz dates to the 1st state that Doblado had resigned from the Juarez Cabinet and returned to Guanajuato with his troops.

The French troops landed on the 22d of August and left for Orizaba. Yellow fever and dysentery had caused a loss of 75 per cent. on the French vessels. The Amazon, whose complement is 675 men has now but 40 left.

On motion, Senate adjourned.

House

On motion of Mr. Gillette, report adopted. The bill was ordered to be printed.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole.

The committee of the whole reported two bills to organize Baker and Umatilla counties. Referred to committee on counties.

AFTERNOON SESSION.—Mr. Conyers introduced a bill to regulate the time of holding court in Columbia county.

Mr. Dufur, Chairman of the committee on roads and highways, reported. Report contained a communication on the subject of roads and highways from Jesse Applegate; who submits to the committee a plan of road law which was read to the House.

Mr. Fay thought the bill possessed great merit and ought to be printed for the use of the House.

Mr. Dufur explained to the House the origin of the bill.

Mr. Stevens thought the communication and the bill proposed by Jesse Applegate should be printed.

Mr. Simpson thought the communication should be laid on the table.

Mr. Humason said that the bill proposed by Jesse Applegate was no bill before this House; there has been no notice by any member made to the house and the committee do not report that as their bill.

Mr. Simpson said the report of the committee was not before the house, because the committee recommended that the matter be laid on the table, which report was adopted and laid upon the table, and if that did not put it on the table, he would like to know what more this House could do towards getting it on the table.

It was decided by the House that the matter was before the House.

Mr. Stevenson moved that fifty copies be printed.

Mr. Gillette was opposed to the printing of that matter

Mr. Stevenson thought that there was a false kind of economy. He was in favor of true policy, true economy, and therefore he wanted the matter printed, as it would enlighten the craniums of members on a very important subject

Mr. Ballard thought that there was no use to print such matter, it can be used by the committee without, and after taking time to examine the matter, if we concluded that we needed it, then it would be time to print

Mr. Simpson and others spoke against printing, when the vote was taken and the House decided not to print, by yeas 2 noes 28

Mr Humason reported H B No. 12, for the relief of certain officers in Wasco

Rules suspended and S. B No. 5, for an appropriation for the relief of Mr Burmister. Passed to second reading.

The rules still further suspended and bill passed. Yeas 24, noes 7

Mr. Gillette offered a resolution that the Governor be furnished with a printed copy of all bills as soon as printed.

Change in the Household.

"There's no use trying any longer to suit him Parsons, muttered that individual's better half, as she sat on a corner of the farm kitchen, rapidly divesting a chicken of its feathers "I've worked and shaved myself to death for him and his'n and all the thanks that I've had for the last fifteen years has been short words and general crowling and fault finding, until now I'm just determined to stand out and have my own way or let things take their own course, and he'll find after all Melissy Talcott has got some spirit in her that can't be crushed out with all his abusing and his aggravation

"To think he had the heart to refuse me a new carpet after he had such good luck with his wheat crop, and I just shaved myself through harvesting, and got along with one gal

"The more the man gits, the stingier he grows, and there isn't a woman among all my acquaintances that would stand such treatment and I won't I'll put my foot down from this moment," setting down most emphatically that solid member of her comely person on the kitchen floor "If Isaac Parsons don't come to terms, I'll quit him—that's all"

Mrs Melissy Parsons had been a remarkably pretty girl in her youth, and thirty years had made her a fair comely woman

Her husband was a somewhat phlegmatic man, stubborn and opinionated, and as his early life had not enlarged or softened his character, the hardest and most disagreeable part of it expanded with his years He loved money, and the esthetic part of his nature had regarded it as wastefulness and extravagance to indulge in much grace or beauty of surrounding

Still there was another side to the man His affections were deep and tender, and a judicious woman could have reached and influenced him to almost any degree thro' these But Mrs Parsons never understood her husband. She was impulsive, high spirited, and really a warm hearted woman, with a good deal of petty social ambition, and she and her husband were constantly jarring at each other

Yet all these years the barns and storehouses, the lands and gold of Isaac Parsons had increased, and God sent children—two boys and a girl—to soften the hearts of the father and mother, and to be to them angels of a new covenant of household peace and tenderness. But alas! the sweet faces and beautiful ministrations of childhood failed to accomplish their mission, and with hearts and tempers fretted and soured and worn, Mr. and Mrs. Parsons counted the years growing over them, and both felt that their marriage had been a mistake and a misery, and with blind eyes that would not see, and hard hearts that would not understand, each blamed the other, and mutual recrimination only produced fresh bitterness

At last a crisis came Mrs. Parsons had set her heart upon a new carpet that autumn, which was in no wise unreasonable, and in which her husband ought to have indulged her, but the manner of the request, which was in reality a command, at once roused the inherent stubbornness of the man, and he flatly refused her. Then followed passionate words and angry retorts until the husband and wife separated with mutual bitterness and rage

But now as Mrs Parsons, took up her denuded chicken and plunged it into a pan of hot water, her eyes glanced on the weekly paper which lay on the table, and they settled upon this passage which completed a short sketch:—"Who when he was reviled reviled not again, but committed his cause to him who judgeth righteously"

And these words stole, in a still, serene, rebuking voice, through the stormy soul of Mrs. Parson She had read them innumerable times before, and they had for her no special message nor meaning, but now God had sent His angel to drop them into her heart, and in a moment something of the real sin and wrong of her life rose up and confronted her.

She sat down in a low chair by her kitchen table, and rested her forehead on her hand. The hard, fretful, angry look went out from her face, and was succeeded by a soft thoughtful expression, and the sunshine hung in yearning, golden, shifting beauty about her.

And then the woman's memory went back to her first acquaintance with Parsons—he had chosen her from a score of others who had envied her that good fortune, and how those early days of her courtship came over the softened heart of the woman, as the first winds of spring came from the south, and go softly over the bare, despairing earth Then she herself once more a shy, tremulous, joyful bride, at the altar, leaning on the arm and tender heart, to whom she gave herself gladly and trustingly, as a woman should.

And she remembered that morning a little later, when her proud and happy young husband brought her to the house which had been his father's, and how for a little while the thought of her being the mistress of the great old farm-house fairly frightened the wits out of her.

She meant to make it a sweet and happy home for Isaac Parsons. She remembered us though it had all happened yesterday the little plans and contrivances she had made for his surprise and their mutual comfort

But the quarrel came. How well she remembered it, and how clearly she saw now the foolish and sinful part she had borne in that! If she had controlled her temper then—if she had only begun gentle and patient, forbearing and forgiving, instead of proud and passionate, fretful and stubborn! if she had only borne her woman's burdens, and done her woman's duties! Here the wife and mother broke down; she buried her face in her apron, and cried like a child.

Mrs. Parsons was an energetic, determined woman, and when she had once made up her mind on any course of action, she would not shrink back from it What went on in the softening woman's heart that morning, as she sat with her apron at her eyes, and the sobs in her heart, rocking to and fro in her low chair, and the sweet restless sunshine all about her—what went on in the woman's softened heart, only God and the angels knew. [To be concluded.

To the Afflicted.

Sufferers who have been unsuccessfully treated for Secret Diseases, Skin Affections, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Stricture, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Ulcers on the Bones and Ankles, Diseases of the Lungs, Piles, Nervous and Liver Diseases upon the Body or Limbs, Pains in the Spine, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all the concomitants of the derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, Horrid Wakings—Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Dizzy Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Tender Breast, Pains in the Limbs—and all improper discharges from the Urethra, all of which arise from the use of Mercury, Quicksilver, Nitrate of Silver, Bad Diet, Bad Habits, Bad Company, Improper Indulgences, Self Abuse, Excesses of Youth or Manhood, or from whatever cause they may have originated, no matter how long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their modes of cure The medicines prescribed are perfectly safe, and contain no mineral or other poisonous substance, but are entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or any other injurious drug

During fifteen years of practice in Europe the American States and California I have acquired from the Aboriginal Indians a knowledge of the most valuable herbs and roots which grow in their native forests, and by the use of these remedies I have cured thousands of the above class of diseases in cases given up by other physicians, who would not prescribe for the afflicted, who now call me the living resurrection, as they are speedy and permanent cures Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health and the first cause of consumption scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family

A permanent cure is guaranteed in every case I undertake, and no one need fear to put himself under my treatment, as my reputation is too well established to allow me to trifle with it

Those who have been salivated by mercurial treatment, and have thereby become victims of disease, should not despair, but call on me, and I will restore them to health and vigor

Strictures is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the shape of disease (human disease excepted) so destroys the constitution upon the system—drawing, as it does, upon the very source of suffering, down to the ultimate grave The dreadful effects produced by this disease are known to but few, and unless cured by the proper remedies, will inevitably bring on premature old age, and destroy the power of procreation The prompt development of the system disqualifies for marriage society business and all earthly happiness and leaves the sufferer wretched in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself With the fullest confidence I assure the most desperate cases that a few days treatment will positively cure, no matter what the abuse or neglect may have been, or how long standing the disease, all symptoms of which will disappear as if by magic, and the perfect manhood of nature be restored

Irregularities and all the worst forms and forms treated upon the most reasonable terms Medicines sent to all parts of the world Medicines with full directions sent to every part of the States, Oregon and Washington Territories by patients communicating their wishes by letter

All business correspondence strictly confidential Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY Medical Institute San Francisco office 6 New Montgomery opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office San Francisco

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Before we publish the seventh edition of this work of the author we have to say a few words, which, having procured their first publication, and simplicity by gratuitous, make known the extensive and wonderful agency and great assistance we have received by a Notary Public The thousands of sufferers who continually consult their publication, and we cannot and their perusal to the attention of all afflicted

Certificate The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who are unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted with a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, I state that I was troubled with a disease in the urinary organs for many years, and being told by one that my only cure was a long, painful operation to be undergone in the Hospital, I was induced to try Dr. Czapkay's remedies, which, after a short time, completely restored me to perfect health I cheerfully recommend the above to all who may be afflicted with a similar disease, feeling confident that they will be benefited by the use of his medicines

MEYER YABLONSKY

State of California county of San Francisco, ss. Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 1st day of August A. D. 1862

[L. S.] GILBERT A. GRANT, Notary Public

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S Private Medical and Surgical Institute is in San Francisco, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Co's office San Francisco The Doctor offers free consultation, and asks no remuneration unless he effects a cure Office hours from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m

SUPPRESSION OR IRREGULARITY OF LOCAL WEAKNESS, nervous debility, insanity, loss of appetite, weakness of the limbs and back, indigestion and responsibility for labor and study, difficulty of respiration, fear of impending danger, aversion to society, love of solitude, timidity, self-distrust, dizziness, headache, confusion of ideas, pain in the side, affections of the eyes, pimples on the face, sexual or other evil forebodings, loss of memory, aversion to business, universally the symptoms of those who indulge in the secret habit, destroying both mind and body, unfitting the sufferer for the duties of married life or society, rendering marriage impossible, and depriving the world of those who would be its ornaments and benefactors

Those who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are many of the following evils, should apply for health and happiness before it is too late They are often troubled with pains in the head, dizziness of the eyes, loss of memory, difficulty of breathing, palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, nervous irritability, derangement of the digestive functions, general debility, symptoms of consumption, etc.

MENTAL AFFECTION, such as loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, love of solitude, timidity, etc., are some of the evils produced

Thousands of persons may now be found in our midst who are suffering from the effects of youthful indiscretion, who are not aware of the cause of their ill health, but who, if consulted, would at once acknowledge the correctness of the above statement

It is a melancholy fact that the greater number of those who fall victims to this secret habit are young men of the most promising talents and brightest intellect, who might have been the leaders of the age in whatever profession they might have chosen, but who, from the fatal effects of this habit, have been obliged to relinquish all their bright prospects and hopes, and in place of stepping forward as the world's benefactors, are obliged to creep through life as mere wrecks of humanity, shunning society, and even themselves

In the treatment of these diseases Dr. Czapkay has no equal in the city, and the most skeptical can call and be convinced
